Gilford Wal-Mart Gives Back; Work Day and Donation to Benefit Prescott Farm

Gilford Wal-Mart employees volunteered their time on Saturday, June 6 for a work day at Prescott Farm Environmental Education Center.

Prescott Farm, a non-profit center offering high-quality environmental education to the Lakes Region of New Hampshire, relies heavily on the help of volunteers. Tasks for the workday included weeding gardens, checking trails, planting flowers, mowing lawns, and painting benches.

The Wal-Mart employees logged at total of 25 hours at Prescott Farm, which spurred a $500.00 gift from the corporate office. This gift was also accompanied by $1000.00 towards the Farm's Summer WildQuest Camp scholarship fund.

"It is great that Wal-Mart has this program," said Prescott Farm Office and Communication Manager, Samantha Kenney. "It is really designed to help non-profits where they need it the most. We should be able to sponsor several area children because of these donations. Of course, the gardens look fantastic too.”
