Zonta Club contributes to Prescott Farm's WildQuest Camp scholarship fund

LACONIA — The Zonta Club of the Lakes Region recently made a contribution to Prescott Farm's WildQuest Camp scholarship fund.

Phyllis Corrigan, the Club's chairman of service, presented Kimberly Drouin, the Farm's office and communications manager, a check for $200 toward WildQuest. Offered throughout the year, WildQuest day camps are licensed by the State of NH and led by experienced environmental educators with the goal of fostering an appreciation and understanding of the natural and cultural history of Prescott Farm, and by extension, student's own special places, as well.

Prescott Farm believes that every child deserves the chance to experience environmental education. The WildQuest Camp scholarship fund is designed to help families who would not otherwise be able to attend the camp.

"Requests for scholarships have almost tripled since last year and we are trying hard to keep up with the demand," stated Drouin. "Contributions like Zonta Club of the Lakes Region make a significant difference and we are grateful for any and all support received from our local community."

PSU wins Community Partner Award from Communities for Alcohol & Drug-Free Youth

PLYMOUTH — Plymouth State University's commitment to helping area youth avoid alcohol and drug abuse has earned it the 2011 "Community Partner Award" from the Communities for Alcohol and Drug-Free Youth (CADY) organization.

Each year at its annual Prevention Summit, CADY spotlights and honors a partner organization that has reached "Above and Beyond" in their community leadership initiatives, collaborative actions, and commitment to youth substance abuse prevention. Deb Naro, CADY executive director, said PSU provides both professional and volunteer services that make a big difference in getting the drug-free message out to area children and youth.

"The service of PSU students, faculty, and staff embodies President Steen's leadership vision, "Imagine a Way," said Naro. "PSU's ability to leverage resources in the form of internships, work study students, and professional leadership has helped build a strong prevention infrastructure for our region. The reality is we cannot build a wall around our communities, or country, to keep illegal drugs out — however, we can work together to build a strong foundation for resiliency that advances youth safety and success. PSU's collaborative spirit, commitment to excellence, and service has helped to build that strong foundation and continues to expand CADY's capacity to meet the unique needs of our rural region. PSU sets a high standard for social responsibility and civic engagement — we are pleased to honor them with this tribute."

Steve Barba, PSU's executive director of University Relations, said the institution is thrilled with the recognition.

"PSU is committed to working with CADY in their efforts to make our community a better place to live for its youth and families, and we're looking forward to continuing our relationship," Barba said.
